

The Gauntlet

This game is like a mixture of a few, but a few games of this and you are ready to hit the bar.

you will need to sit around a table with about 3 to 6 people. You pick on person to deal but this person can also play. The dealer asks the the players red or black the first round. If they guess it right they pass out 2 drinks, if they dont they drink 2. Then with the first card sitting in front of them, u ask them higher or lower. This is worth 4 drinks. They should have 2 cards in front of them now and you ask them in between or outside, this is worth six drinks. The last round is pick a suit, its worth 8 drinks. After u complete this you can then decide who goes into the gauntlet.

You decided who goes into the gauntlet by having the players keep their cards in front of them. You then make 2 rows of 5 cards, the left side is give and the right side is take. Start at the bottom cards and go up alternating between give and take. If you have a card on the give side actually give another player that card and they have to drink either 1-5 drinks depending on what row it is on. The person with the most cards at the end of this will be sent into the gauntlet.

Finally the gauntlet. The gauntlet will mess you up. U always put an Ace at the top and then put 12 more cards face down in a row. So a total of 13 cards. An Ace is worth 4 drinks plus 4 more cards in the row, K is 3 drinks plus 3 cards, Q 2 drinks 2 cards, J 1 drink 1 cards, all other cards are no good. You make it through the gauntlet once all the cards are gone. Now if u run outta cards in the deck and the player still has drinks, Then u repeat the gauntlet again.

Hope u guys enjoy this game.
