

Landmines

Landmines

Learned to play on vacation at the lake

Go from getting started to shit faced quick

All that is needed is a table and a quarter some party cups and alot of beer. one person starts by putting as much beer as they want in a cup. you must spin the quarter and drink your desired amount and pick up the quarter with your drinking hand before it stops or falls over. it goes in a circle around the table. when one person finishes a beer it becomes a landmine. (you must remember to put the tab up for it to be a landmine or else someone can steal it off the table and use it.) you can slam the landmine on the quarter when someone else spins it. they have to drink and go again. the object of the game is to screw someone over so they have a hard time spinning the quarter without it hitting a landmine. the more beer you drink the more landmines you get. also if a person leaves there beer on the table it can be sniped by the person with the quarter and the person who left the unfinished beer must finish the rest of it. have fun
