

Patio caps

I JUST CO-CREATED A NEW DRINKING GAME AND IT WILL SOON BE MORE POPULAR THAN BEER PONG. ITS CALLED "PATIO CAPS".

You need a patio table with a hole in the center for an umbrella. Take the umbrella out. You need beer bottle caps. you need a deck of cards with jokers included and most importantly you need alcohol. players get 3 caps to bounce. game continues until someone wins by at least 2 points. game is played to 6 points must win by 2 always finish throwing all of your caps (you can win by up to 14 points). bounce your cap into the hole or on the outside ring of the hole. In the hole you get 3 points, on the ring is 2 points. (HARDER THAN IT SOUNDS). you must draw a card for every point you lose by. You add up the numbers on your cards, Jacks are 11 points, queens are 12, kings are 13 and aces are 14. if you pull a joker you must draw another card and the number on that card is doubled. you must then drink for the number that u end up with in seconds. So if I lose by 2 points i pull 2 cards. for example if I draw a 9 and a jack then i must drink for 20 seconds. Now here is where it gets interesting. For All penalty's you must draw an extra card and drink double for every penalty card. Penalty's include, No alcohol abuse, no throwing up, no cheating, no reminders, you cant be responsible for any caps or anything else that might be on the table landing off of the table, no foaming out of the mouth due to way too much beer intake (IT HAPPENS TO ME ALLOT), No bathroom breaks, if you get shut out then its a penalty, the drink must not leave your lips only for a brief second to change drinks, if you cannot keep drinking then you must pull a penalty card and start your drinking over. at the start of the game players draw a card to determine who picks what order they would like to go, everyone must then drink for there cards. After that the winner decides the order in which people play. Best out of three, three rounds ends the series then you start over. The record amount of seconds someone has had to drink so far in patio caps is over 200 seconds. That was Andrew Murphy the other co creator of Patio caps. Any questions or comments please contact me on myspace or contact Andrew Murphy on his myspace which is <http://www.myspace.com/agem26> . Enjoy and please don't kill yourself while playing our game. Oh yeah, Beer is the recommended alcohol for this game. If you choose to play with liquor then edit the rules so you wont die. Enjoy!!!! Feedback is appreciated. . . . .
