

Jive Talkey

We were just sitting around a bonfire and made up this game.

Drunk Level: Buzzed to Drunk

Tools: Friends & Booze. You can play this game with shots, but we wouldn't recommend it.

How To Play:

The game starts by each player selecting a word that they think the other players will say often in a conversation. Each player announces what word they have chosen to the other players.

After everyone picks their word, you just have a regular conversation.

If a player says anyone else's word, they must drink once.

If a player says their own word, they must drink twice.

This game can be played inside just about any other drinking game.

ENJOY!
